Music?

I think an area to discuss music would be a good addition to the forum.

I've heard that students perform better on exams after listening to Mozart for example, and I'd expect people have favourite pieces for stretching or other activities covered in the topics here.

Hi
If music was related to holistic matters like healing with sound, then it would be a good idea

I don't really see where music would fit in on this forum. I know that my wife uses relaxing music in aromatherapy, but not as a seperate treatment.

Well you are right. But we can discuss about Music in general area where we can discuss anything. I know music is good and I used it during Yoga. It make our mind cool.

Hi

You could use the open topics forum to talk about music or what music you use for meditation and healing etc
